Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Hartley, Mr. Kent, and Mrs. Johnson work closely with students and teachers to upgrade the educational system in Franklin County.

Constantly striving for a smoother and more efficient operation of county schools, Mr. Doss confers frequently with other school officials.

As supervisor of the vocational program at FCHS, Mr. Jamison works to expand the opportunities for each student.

Guidance Provided By Administration

Wesley W. Naff, Jr.
Principal

Establishing policies governing Franklin County High School, deciding snow days, and determining the salaries of teachers were only a few of the many duties of the administrative staff.

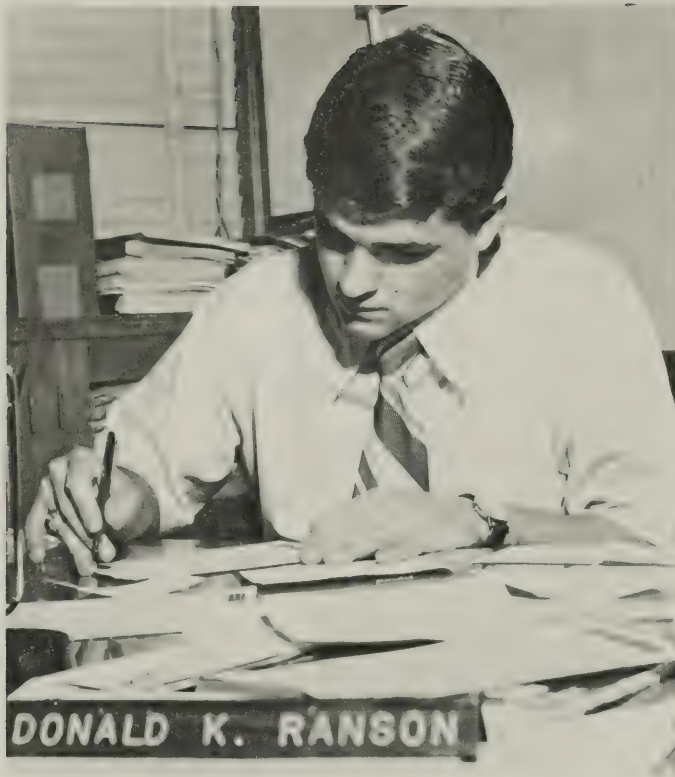

Mr. Wesley W. Naff, Jr., FCHS principal, had a job with a variety of tasks and responsibilities. Being dedicated to his work, he gave of himself to both the students and the school always finding time to confer with students, teachers, and parents seeking information and advice.

Mr. C. I. Dillon, Jr., superintendent of Franklin County Schools, spent many hours improving the educational system of the county. A capable, dependent, and competent person, he performed his duties with efficiency and was an asset to the students of FCHS and to the entire county. Working closely with Mr. Dillon were Mrs. Florella Johnson, elementary supervisor; Mr. T. A. Hartley, director of instruction; Mr. Bruce Kent, general supervisor; Mr. Cecil Doss, supervisor of operational and auxiliary services; and Mr. W. R. Jamison, vocational supervisor. Under the capable leadership of these educators, school activities functioned smoothly in order to meet the increasingly varied needs of the students.

Even though the schedule is busy for both principal and students, Mr. Naff takes times to talk with J. W. Stanley and Glenase Smith between classes.

Counselors Are Friends As Well As Advisors

May I have my schedule changed? What is my senior rank? What is my score on College Boards? These comments typified a few of the problems presented to the guidance counselors throughout the year. Miss Jefferson, Mrs. Berger, and Mrs. Featherston also answered questions concerning job interests, college selection and applications, choice of high school subjects, and personal problems.

Handling all problems with confidence and reassurance, Mrs. Dillon, as school nurse, administered to all who became ill at school.

Library Is Ideal Place To Study

Mrs. Jeanne Hawley
B.A.; Lynchburg College; Head Librarian

Where might I find the play Julius Caesar? How much is my overdue fine? These were only a few questions that were asked the librarians this year. From 8:00 in the morning until 4:00 in the afternoon, the library made available its facilities to all students and teachers.

Providing reading material, encyclopedias, films, slides, records, tapes, newspapers, and magazines, the library helped students and teachers increase their background of knowledge and widen their outlook. Because of the quiet, comfortable atmosphere, many students found the library to be an ideal place to study.

During their study halls, students served as library assistants helping to shelve books, check out books, and answer questions.

The Social Studies Department gave students an opportunity to become involved in such activities as a mock Senate. Through projects, debates, and discussions, students gained an insight into the work of the government. Students also received an inspiration for furthering their knowledge. Providing instruction that gave FCHS students a deeper understanding of the events of the past, the Social Studies Department trained the leaders of tomorrow and encouraged them to be proud of their country and its heritage.

Class participation is very important in Mr. Ayers government class as is evident by the interest displayed during the discussion of Chapter 2.

The area of a rhombus is one-half of the product of the lengths of its diagonals. I just don't see why! Students could be heard exclaiming frustration after many attempts at solving mathematical problems which seemed insolvable.

Courses in the Math Department were designed to better prepare students for college and the problems of a changing world. Well qualified instructors sought to teach the why of math and to help students think for themselves as they prepared for the future. A variety of subjects were offered including Math IV, geometry, algebra, calculus, and consumer math.

Mr. Handran helping a student with a problem is a typical scene in consumer math class.

Science Students Participate In

Why can't we fly? Why are plants green? What is a nucleus? These were all familiar questions answered by enthusiastic science teachers. Endeavoring to develop scientific attitudes and experimentation within their classes, the Science Department trained potential scientists and introduced students to the many fields open to them through scientific study.

Science classes were both interesting and informative. In fact, many long hours of concentration and hard work were spent on projects. Through active participation in laboratory activities, students were encouraged to think independently and to develop a scientific attitude. Students found that their efforts brought preparation for the future and knowledge of their environment.

Latin, French, And Spanish Classes

Eugene R. Freedman
B.A.; Virginia Military Institute; French

Fragments of Latin, French, and Spanish drifted through the halls of FCHS as students mastered the art of speaking, writing, and reading a new language. Many found their new language to be an interesting task although accents, verb tenses, and sentence structure required much study.

Latin students found the language very much alive as they studied myths and Roman history. Because of their study of Latin, many students derived a much better background in English. French students became acquainted with the French contributions in the fields of art, music, and literature. They also learned of the geography and history of the country. Spanish students learned of the customs and history of the Spanish-speaking countries.

Filmstrips, movies, slides, and outside speakers enhanced the classroom routine by adding variety to ordinary study. The language lab aided students in improving their pronunciation by providing tapes of persons speaking the native language.

Speech And English Enable Students to Speak and Write Effectively

Serving as the hub of the curriculum at FCHS, the English Department provided instruction in the art of communication. Diagrams, written exercises, and oral drills helped students to understand each part of a well-constructed sentence. Self-expression in written and spoken forms was stressed with book reviews, themes, vocabulary drills, and oral reports.

For sophomores, Julius Caesar became a popular area of study. They also enjoyed the many short stories that were presented. Juniors received intensive instruction in American literature and will long remember their first term paper. For seniors, there was an over-all study of works created by English authors.

Speech class was offered as an elective course to all interested students. The main objective of the course was to improve creativity and to improve a student's communication with others.

Mrs. Milam often enjoys discussing interesting areas of literature with her English students.

Stenography, clerical accounting, and clerk typist were offered as two hour classes in which students could obtain skills and knowledge needed for employment in these areas.

Senior business students had the added advantage of furthering their business skills by working part-time in local offices. Students at FCHS found that the basic knowledge and experience gained from their business courses benefitted them immensely in their chosen occupation.

First year typing students let their fingers flit over the keyboard as they try to increase their typing speed.

Emphasis Is Placed On Cooking And Sewing

Mrs. English's home economics class expresses a great deal of satisfaction over the results of their canned products.

A feeling of great achievement was experienced as a cake turned out just right. A sigh of relief was felt as the last stitch was completed on a dress. These emotions were experienced by FCHS home economics students. Capable instruction and natural talents soon made a promising homemaker of each student.

Through discussions, demonstrations, and class studies, home economics students learned about food preservation, meal preparation, child care, and good family relations. Because of the high cost of living, special emphasis was placed on the selection of clothing, the art of cooking, and the skills of sewing. Occupational home economics was offered to those students planning a career in food or clothing service.

Bagging groceries, decorating display cases, and trying to please dissatisfied customers were some of the tasks performed by Distributive Education students. With the purpose of providing interested students with practical work experience, D.E. students were employed in local retail, wholesale, and various types of service establishments.

Classroom studies included merchandising, math, selling, advertising, customer and human relations, and stockkeeping. Through the D.E. program, juniors and seniors received valuable training designed to develop future leaders for marketing and distribution. For those FCHS students interested in the broad field of agriculture, many varied opportunities were available. The first and second years of training included instruction in the basics of agricultural science and mechanics. Third and fourth year courses were designed to explore the areas of agricultural production, agricultural business, and conservation and forestry.

Leadership training was given each student, and the Future Farmers of America organization offered an opportunity to practice the proper procedures. The knowledge acquired in vocational agriculture aided students in their preparation for non-agricultural related careers as well as those in the industry of agriculture.

Mr. Hylton uses class demonstration to emphasize a point in agribusiness and natural resources.

Students In Cosmetology And Power

Developing skills for future use was the purpose of cosmetology and power mechanics classes. Cosmetology students eagerly worked to acquire their license as beauticians. Areas of study included manicuring, shampooing, rinsing, hair styling, hair cutting, permanent waving, skin care, make-up, and salon management. Girls were enrolled in cosmetology three years, during which time they received three hours of instruction each day.

Power mechanics students studied such systems as transmissions and the electrical and hydraulic principles. Also involved were the methods of maintenance and repair of diesel and gasoline engines. Enrolled in the course for two years, power mechanics students strived to acquire mechanical skills for future use.

Masonry was designed primarily for students interested in the building trades. The use of the trowel in bricklaying and the technique of concrete finishing in addition to mortar and metal ties, wall types, the construction of chimneys and fireplaces, and other related trades were just a few of the possibilities of masonry class.

Electricity, a three hour class, concentrated on the electrical theory of home wiring, radio, television, and the repairing of appliances and starting devices. Under the capable guidance of proficient instructors, students in electricity and masonry progressed toward their chosen career.

Physical Education Molds And Strengthens

Somebody has tied a knot in my shoelaces! Are we going outside today? Where is my gym suit? These were familiar sounds in the Physical Education Department. Boys and girls participated in team sports such as softball, baseball, football, soccer, volleyball, and individual sports like ping-pong, tumbling, and track. To begin class, students started with exercises and by the end of the year their stamina had increased. Despite sore muscles, bruises, and jammed fingers, students looked forward to physical education classes.

Along with the development of physical abilities, students also progressed in the development of the mind. Courses in first-aid and driver education were available to both boys and girls.

Brightening many school days, the Franklin County High School Band brought beautiful music and happiness into the life of each student. The band entertained at many school functions, such as pep rallies, assemblies, concerts, parades, and ball games.

During the year the band practiced diligently preparing for performances. It exhibited fine skill and kept the school in the victory spirit. Spectators always looked forward to half time at football games when the band performed.

Some members of the band combined to form the Stage Band which worked hard to prepare their jazz and dance music. No band would be complete without the Majorettes and Flag Corp. Practicing long and hard, their endeavors charmed freezing spectators to a gratifying warmth.

Harmonious sounds rang through the auditorium as the choir presented the student body with songs, old and new, in a series of assemblies and concerts. This assembly of some of the finest musical talent possible proved its worth through participation in school events, as well as competition outside the realm of the school.

The choir began at the first of the term to prepare and to organize the numerous presentations they were to offer in the coming months. Highlighting the Christmas season, the Concert Choir presented their annual Christmas Concert. Seasonal melodies, religious and vivacious, delighted FCHS students and the school community.

With a purpose of enriching the cultural standards of the school and the community, the FCHS Choirs worked hard to present the best in vocal music. Always working for a perfect performance, each choir member strove to do his best so that each performance would please any audience. Turning on lights, cleaning floors, and unlocking doors were among the many chores designated to the custodians. Always within reach, they often came to the aid of the administration and student body. Maintenance of FCHS and its surrounding grounds demanded a great deal of effort on the part of the custodians.

Busing students to and from the far and near corners of the county was the major duty of the student bus drivers. Maintaining order and handling any emergencies which presented themselves, the bus drivers exhibited intelligence, maturity, and patience in meeting their responsibilities.

Providing the student body and faculty with nourishing meals to tide them over from breakfast until dinner was the responsibility of the cafeteria staff. Students looked forward to getting together over the hot meals; therefore, the hard work that had gone into the preparation of each meal was appreciated.

The work of the custodians, student bus drivers, and cafeteria staff often went unnoticed, but the valuable services performed by these groups made Franklin County High School a much more pleasant school.

INDIVIDUALS

DESIDERATA

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they see vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter, for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; if it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals, and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its shame, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

Of '74 Through A Successful Year

Characterizing itself by a show of ambition, the Junior Class met with willingness their challenges and experiences which gave unforgettable memories to many and undeveloped dreams to others.

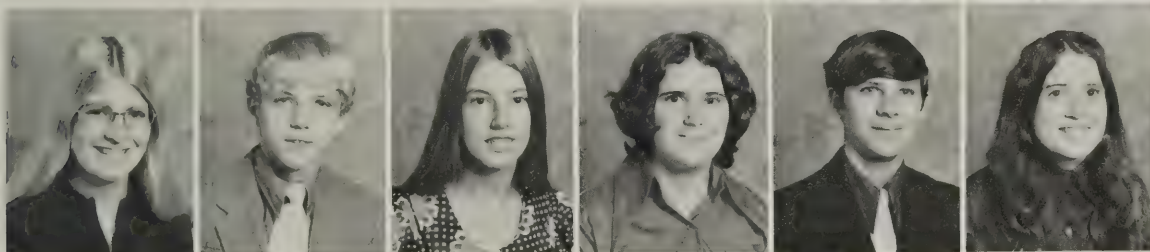

As juniors, the students began to appreciate school and the advantages that a well-balanced education laid forth. While maintaining the enthusiasm of youth, they realized the serious aspects of the fast approaching senior year and their debut into whatever walks of life awaited them.

For the first time they were confronted with the election of class officers. They anxiously selected their class rings and patiently awaited their return. Nervously they took preliminary college board tests for the first time. The outstanding event for the juniors was the Junior-Senior Prom, and they took honor in providing an evening their senior classmates would never forget.

After all these events, the Junior Class began to look forward to the highlights of the next year.

To Be Helpful In Many Activities

Ned Cundiff is the winner of the grand prize in the magazine campaign. For his efforts he receives a stereo tape-record player.

Striving to make Franklin County High School the best school possible, the Class of '75 cheered at ball games and pep rallies, sold numerous subscriptions during the magazine campaign, and sold candy for many of the clubs. The spirited sophomores eagerly participated in all extra-curricular and academic activities.

Studying was an important part of their year. They struggled with geometry problems and dissected frogs in biology. In the end, all of this hard work paid off when excellent grades were received by many hard-working industrious students.

Entering into the new realm of the senior high school and helping to crowd the halls with new life and enthusiasm, the Class of '75 eagerly accepted any challenges that came their way. Such groups as the Dramatics Club and the foreign language clubs, in addition to numerous others, provided opportunities for sophomores to develop hidden resources and to aid in the growth of the organization. They began to shoulder many of the important responsibilities of Franklin County High School. All of the members of the class put forth the concentrated effort that made them a truly unique group of people.

Future Homemakers of America was the national organization for girls and boys studying homemaking in high school. As an integral part of the homemaking programs, FHA provided opportunities for students to have additional experiences in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking.

Through the programs of the local chapter, "Our Future As Homemakers" and "Decisions that Count," future homemakers became more aware of their important role as homemakers and the importance of making wise decisions to prepare them for the future. Specific FHA activities were designed to involve the family, thus bringing family members together and at the same time helping all involved to become aware of the necessity of preparing today for the opportunities of tomorrow.

Some of the activities sponsored by the club included preparing a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, selling brightnotes and candy, participating in Star Federation meeting in Roanoke, attending the state FHA Convention, and sponsoring a tea for teachers.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America was composed of students enrolled in cosmetology, power mechanics, masonry, and electricity. The purpose of VICA was symbolized by its emblem: the torch of knowledge, the orbital circles symbolizing new technology and research; the gear as the traditional symbol of industry; and the untrained hands of youth, reaching for the torch of knowledge. One highlight of the year was the building of floats for the Homecoming Parade and also the Christmas Parade.

Distributive Education Club Sponsors

An organization of leadership and personal development, the Distributive Education Club of America provided instruction in the fields of marketing, merchandising, and management. The club had a main purpose of providing the students a professional organization to coordinate school and on-the-job training.

The four points on the DECA diamond symbolized vocational understanding, civic consciousness, social intelligence, and leadership development. The wrapped package stood for a job well done in the close co-operation of student, teacher, parent, and merchant.

DECA activities provided members with an opportunity to serve as leaders as well as followers and an opportunity to receive state and national recognition for their achievements. The Franklin County Chapter planned activities which included social, civic, and professional projects that provided for school and community betterment. Some of the activities included a breakfast for the DE II students, sponsoring a float in the Homecoming Parade, contributing to a needy family, money-making projects, trips to local businesses, and the annual employee-employer banquet.

DE students often tour local businesses to supplement their class work. Here Darnell Hodges and David King board the bus for a trip to Crossroads Mall in Roanoke.

Varsity Club Promotes School Spirit

Members of the Varsity Club promoted school spirit and sports participation and encouraged good sportsmanship and teamwork. Members came from the football, basketball, baseball, wrestling, golf, track, and cheerleading squads. To earn membership a student must have earned a varsity letter. When two letters were earned, a member was awarded a sweater. One highlight of the 1972-73 year was a field trip to a VPI football game.

Debaters Gain Experience In Public Speaking

VARSITY DEBATERS: Susan Milam, Betsy Kay Simmons, and Donna Booth.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Judy Bateman, the Franklin County High School Debate Team learned the arts of argumentation and speech and gained experience in the fields of rhetoric and public speaking. The main purpose was to teach students the skill of logically discussing a number of subjects which could be proven by the artful use of evidence. Aside from practice debates among fellow students, the team participated in several tournaments. The Eagle debaters traveled to E. C. Glass High School, Longwood College, and Madison College.

The varsity team was composed of affirmative, debaters, Betsy Kay Simmons and Roy Beheler; the negatives were Susan Milam and Donna Booth. For the first time there was a novice team including the affirmatives, David Stout and C. L. Hundley; and the negatives, Dickie Milam and Bernice Baker.

The four main objectives of debating were to enable students to better themselves in competition with other students; to gain a better understanding of the techniques of research; to develop good speaking qualities; and to learn to think quickly and accurately.

Newspaper Staff Puts Forth Lots Of

In Room 211 during fifth period each day, the Newspaper Staff met to publish The Franklin Eagle. This year there was more work than ever as the staff typed its own galleys and drew the headlines. Students seemed to like the new miniature size of the paper, though.

The staff was small, only ten members; but everyone put forth lots of effort to make the newspaper a success. Supervising was Mrs. Booth, the Eagle sponsor, better known as Mama Eagle to the staff.

Deborah Bryant and Pam Bowles have a busy job typing all year-book copy and layouts.

Memories Of Annual Staff Linger

"Now you stay right here till the yearbook arrives and I will come and get you," quips Debbie Hodges to Holly Bauknecht, Co-Editor of the Animo.

In the spring of 1972 when other organizations were completing their work, the FCHS Annual Staff began creating the '73 yearbook. Working throughout the summer selling ads and drawing layouts, the dedicated staff began the challenging job of planning the yearbook. As school began in the fall, the entire staff immediately went to work writing copy, completing master layouts, indexing names, identifying students, and taking pictures. With a sigh of relief and a host of memories, the Annual Staff will long remember the real fun and enjoyment that became a trademark of the entire group.

Franklin County Playmakers Complete

The newly named Franklin County Playmakers under the direction of Mr. Nix and Mr. Brown completed a highly successful year of theater. In November, to become more involved in county activities, the Playmakers presented the one act play, "Once Upon A Playground," to school and P.T.A. groups.

December 16 was the date for the club's first full scale production as they presented the three act play, "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon." This play was also presented as a special assembly for the student body.

Perfect Harmony

An outstanding quality of choral music was again present this year as an increasingly large number of FCHS students demonstrated that they really loved to sing. The Franklin County High School Choirs were expressive and dynamic, and their impact on audiences was better than ever. The Chorale, Concert Choir, and Choraleers spent many long hours in preparation for the Christmas Concert, Spring Concert, Regional Festival, District Festival and numerous other engagements. The Choirs also played a very important part in school assemblies and were very popular throughout Franklin County.

The Choirs have completed to perfection their role in the Franklin County High School curriculum. They please many an audience and, of course, many FCHS students.

Hard at work, the Choir strives for improvement as they prepare for the Christmas Concert.

HAPPENINGS

Reality Is Smothered In World Of

Leading the way for the traditional Grand March are senior and junior class presidents and their dates.

Working diligently, Wanda Love and Debra Flora along with many other juniors, strive to complete the decorations before prom night.

Imagination At Junior-Senior Prom

Imagine all the people living only for today. That was the mood displayed by those that attended the Junior-Senior Prom. Forgetting the rest of the world, reality seemed to be smothered in a world of imagination. Providing music for the theme "Imagine" was the Atlantic Sound Show.

Long hours of exchanging ideas, planning, and decorating were executed by hard working juniors. From vague layouts presented to them by the art instructors, Mrs. Dorothy Phelps and Mr. Derek Brown, the junior class worked to make the prom a lasting memory for the class of '72.

As water sprays from the fountain behind them, a couple stands enchanted in the land of "Imagine."

Ignited by the sounds of "The Atlantic Sound Show," students seem to be gaining energy as the prom continuously draws closer to the end.

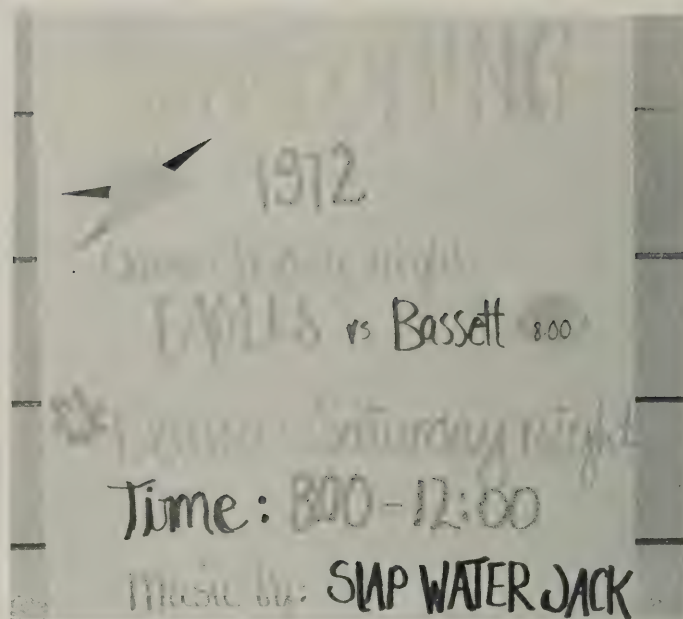

Highlighting the prom's decorations was a silhouette portraying the imagination of innocent young lovers.

Homecoming '73 You've Got A Friend

Homecoming '73 was the best ever as both participants and spectators took part in the numerous activities that would remain a part of them for years to come. The numerous activities were kindled by a successful homecoming parade and a victorious win over Bassett. The climax was the spectacular homecoming dance. Reigning as Homecoming Queen was Diane McGuire while Birchie Warren captured the honor of Mr. Football.

Posters in the hall provide information about homecoming weekend.

Dancing the night away, these students represent those enjoying a night which will be remembered for a long time.

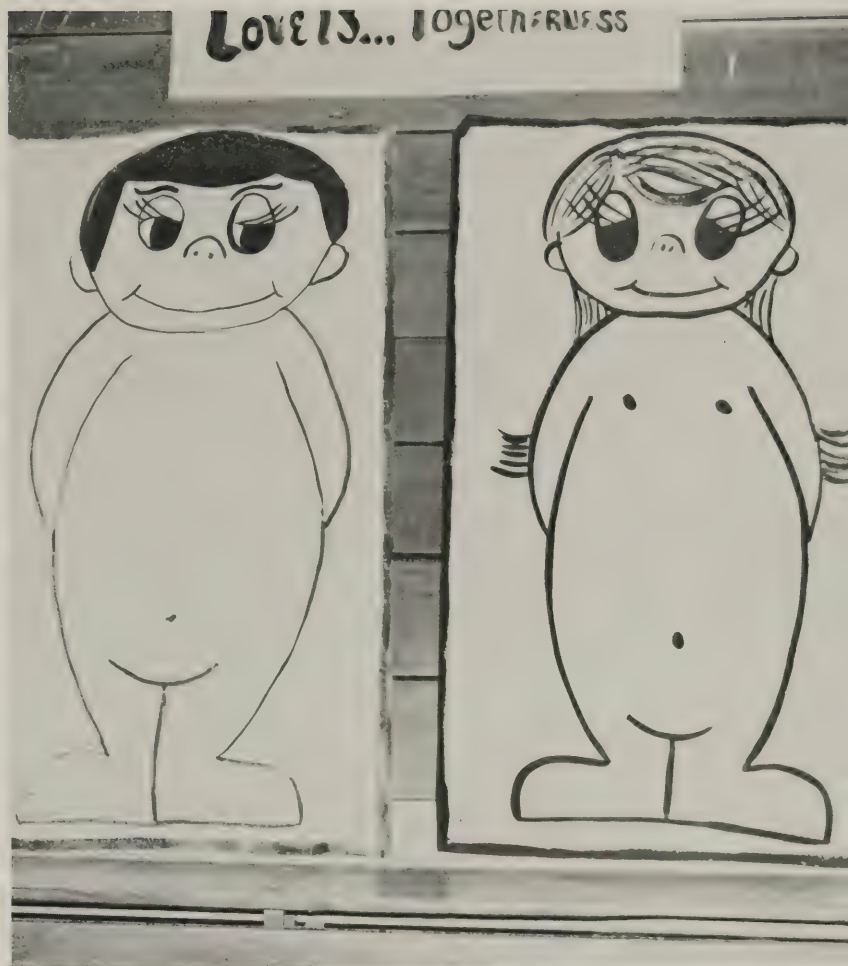

Music for the homecoming dance is beautifully provided by "Slap Water Jack."

Sophomore representatives for homecoming activities are Bonnie Hogan and Cheryl Taylor.

Love is . . . posters are hung throughout the gym homecoming night to accent the theme "You've Got A Friend."

Surrounding Homecoming Queen Diane McGuire and Mr. Football Birchie Warren are the Junior attendants and their escorts, Charlene Beckner, Sherrard Holland, Gladys Boitnott, and Bill Walker.

Through Worthy Accomplishments

Because of his high score on the PSAT/NMSQT, Stephen Dinwiddie is a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program. If he advances to Finalist standing in the competition, he will be considered for merit scholarships to be awarded this spring.

Students Bring Honor To FCHS

Mark Goodpasture, George Hutcherson, and Thomas Guthrie represent FCHS at Boys' State at the College of William and Mary.

Several FCHS students excelled in various fields of opportunity during the school year. Carefully selected because of their interest in history and government, three girls were selected to attend Girls' State at Radford College while three boys were selected to attend Boys' State at the College of William and Mary. Because of his high score on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, one student became a semi-finalist in this scholarship program. If he advances to finalist standing in the competition, he will be considered for merit scholarships to be awarded in the spring of 1973.

Representing FCHS at the All-Regional Band Festival at Radford College were three outstanding band members. These musicians performed with the All-Regional Band in concert and were eligible for All-State Band. Seven members of the FCHS Choir were chosen to participate in District VI All-Regional Choir. This event was also held at Radford College.

Many other students were acknowledged for their worthy accomplishments in such areas as sports, clubs, Virgil H. Goode Award, and numerous others.

Members of the Golden Knights present game ball to Mr. Naff, Eagle co-captains, Noel Arrington and Birchie Warren, and Mr. Foutz.

Activities Give Escape From Class

Spanish students, Nancy Johnson, Cathy White, Diane Ellis, Robert Hartsel, Sue Sink, Laverne Davis, and Kathy English spent the summer of 1972 visiting Mexico.

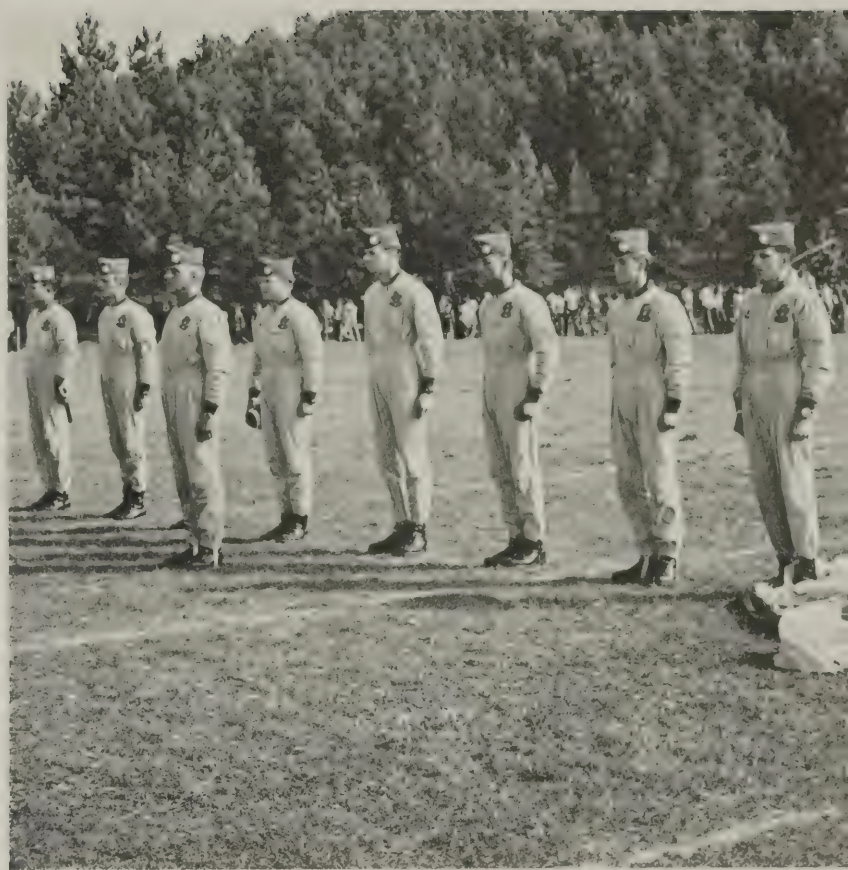

Mary Simms, Lisa Klotz, Gloria Via, Evelyn Flora, Janet Dunman, Margie Campbell, Debbie DeHart, and Sheri Layman are the Intramural Volleyball champions.

Conrad Jones of Martinsville High School leads the Danville District Conference in an interesting discussion. FCCHS is the host school.

After a thrilling performance before the entire junior and senior high schools, the Golden Knights are recognized by the student body.

And Broaden Lives Of Students

Forensic participants Bernice Baker, Tim Barnhart, and Betsy Kay Simmons place in district competition at Hollins College.

Highlighting the 1972-73 school year were many events and assemblies afforded by student activities. Along with the monthly meetings of the twenty active school clubs at FCCHS, conventions and district conferences were attended by many club members. Interested students also participated in various competitive events sponsored by these clubs and special interest groups.

Students and faculty members of both the junior and senior high schools will never forget the magnificent performance of the Golden Knights, the U.S. Army Parachute Team. Such events as this as well as sock hops, pep rallies, and intramural games sponsored by the SCA and the cheerleaders provided enjoyment for all.

Sports assemblies, such as wrestling, brightened the days of many avid fans. Other assemblies were presented by the Franklin County Playmakers. In December, a dramatic presentation, "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon," was performed for the benefit of students.

Richard Law demonstrates the effectiveness of the fast break as he drives in for a lay up.

Guard Johnny Webb proves his quickness to the opposing team as he slips in the back door for an easy score.

Floor general Steve Brubaker shows that he can score as well as bring the ball down the court.

Young Grapplers Provide

Falling on hard times this year, the wrestling team ended the season with a 3-9 record. However, there were many close meets in spite of the large differential in scores. The team was relatively young and inexperienced. There was only one experienced senior and only one person on the team with more than one year of experience.

Charles Atkinson ended the regular season with an 8-1-1 record and placed second in the 105 pound class at the district tournament. Kelvin Mattox (126) and Tom Boitnott (167) each finished fourth at the tournament.

Helping the wrestling team this season in various capacities were the Mat Maids. These girls among other things were score keepers, prepared programs, prepared and served pre-meet nourishment, and hosted a party for the team at the end of the season.

Even though the team didn't always score in the win column, the team gained valuable experience in varsity competition that should enable our young team to have a far better season next year.

Coach Ward Goodwin shouts strategy to one of his wrestlers as the rest of the bench looks on.

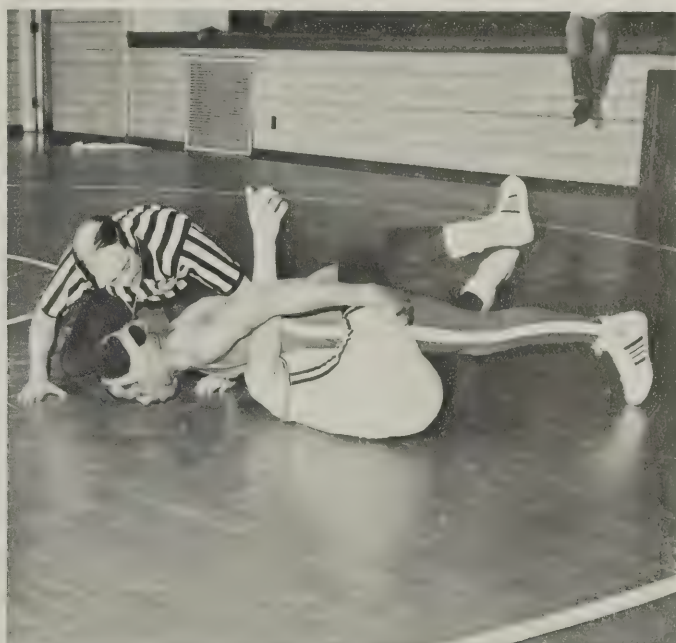

Demonstrating his competitive spirit, D. A. Peters struggles to reverse his position against an opposing grappler.

Under the watchful eye of the referee, senior Allan Altice maneuvers to set his opponent up for the pin.

Charles Atkinson sets his opponent up for the kill as he rolls him up in a cradle.

Kelvin Mattox works to keep his opponents shoulders pinned by maintaining control of his opponent's leg.

Nucleus For Future Victories

MAT MAIDS: Barbara Hodges, Nancy Greer, Wanda Cundiff, Kathy Jones, Julia Arrington, Cathy Mann, Anne Meador, Dana Turner, Debbie Hodges, Gloria Via, and Barbara Board.

Eagle Golfers Enjoy Rewards

Cliff Hughes and Clyde Perdue watch Van Renick demonstrate skill with his putting stroke.

Coach Kilby gives Eagle medalist, Mark Henderson, some tips on the finer points of the game of golf.

GOLF TEAM: Row 1: Cliff Hughes, Coach Bill Kilby, Van Renick. Row 2: Frank Lawrence, Mark Henderson, Clyde Perdue, Robbie Robinson, Garland Bowman.

Displaying fierce determination, Cliff Hughes attempts a difficult shot for par on the ninth hole.

Clyde Perdue takes a practice putt to sharpen his form for the upcoming match with William Fleming.

Franklin County High School's golf team completed its first winning season in seven years. With a record of 4-3-1, the Eagles improved as the season progressed.

Mark Henderson set a school record when he fired a two under par 33 in the opening match against Floyd County High School. In a match against Jefferson High School, Henderson walked off with medalist honors. Robbie Robinson captured first medalist honors at the Roanoke Valley District Golf Tournament and became the first FCHS golfer to qualify for a regional meet.

With a powerful swing, Steve Mitchell raps a double for the Eagles.

Displaying the team's winning spirit, Steve Brubaker scores another run.

Runners-Up In Region Tournament

As Robert Haskins and Steve Oakes cover the plate, the umpire rules on a close play.

Catcher Tony Hurt blocks the ball in an effort to tag the runner.

Stretching with all of his might, catcher Tony Hurt waits for the throw from third base.

Showing typical Eagle hustle, Johnny Walker races the ball to first base.

With a season record of 8-4, the FCHS baseball team proved to be highly victorious! Under the leadership of Coach Jimmy Thompson and Assistant Coaches Royal Mullins and Charlie Davis, the Eagle glovemen won the Roanoke Valley District championship.

For the first time ever, the Northwest Region Baseball Tournament was held in Rocky Mount. Four of the best teams in the area, including FCHS, fought for the region title. The Eagles were runners-up for the title as they lost by only two runs to Amherst.

Concentration is evident on Glenn Powell's face as he competes in the discus event.

Second In District Competition

After completing his throw, Don Angle checks his distance in the shot put event.

Kenny Poindexter jumps 6-6 to set a new FCHS record in the high jump.

FCHS's track team completed a very successful season under the leadership of Coach Dick Foutz and Assistant Coach Mason Ligon. School records were set by Raymond Keys, Mark Kent, Kenny Poindexter, and Rudy Holland. The mile relay team composed of Mike Ferguson, Mark Kent, Luther Smith, and Greg Taylor also broke old records.

The Eagles finished second at the Roanoke Valley District Track Meet and seven members of the FCHS team qualified for the regionals. Three members of the team won places at the regional meet, thus qualifying for state competition. In the state Triple A event, Kenny Poindexter captured second place in the high jump and Raymond Keys placed fifth in the long jump.

Displaying his competitive spirit, Raymond Keys' efforts are rewarded with a first place in the broad jump.

At the head of the pack, Kelvin Mattox sets the pace for one of the distance events.

Girls' Track Team Places

In the tense moments before an event, Coach Crawford gives some last minute advice to Debbie DeHart.

The determination to win can be seen here as Diane Ellis completes her delivery in the shot put event.

Always seeking perfection, Bernice Baker and Brenda Mattox practice passing the baton.

Despite snow, freezing temperatures, and a wet track, the FCHS girls' track team began the season with an impressive victory over Christiansburg. The first loss in five years was suffered at the second meet against James River, although one school record was broken. Sharon Cooke set a new high jump record when she leaped an even five feet.

At the last meet of the season, the Eaglettes of Coaches Jane Crawford and Sandy Sink scored 56 points to win the four-way meet against Radford, Pulaski, and Christiansburg. Scharlene Cooke established a new school record at this meet as she broke her own record in the 220-yard dash.

In an effort to win first place, Jamie Young displays faultless form in the broad jump.

The many long hours of practice required to produce a winning team is shown as Marlene Harper and Kathy Boitnott run a lap to keep in shape.

Second In Regional Meet

Faye Milliron puts forth all her effort to "get the spirit moving" at the Jefferson game.

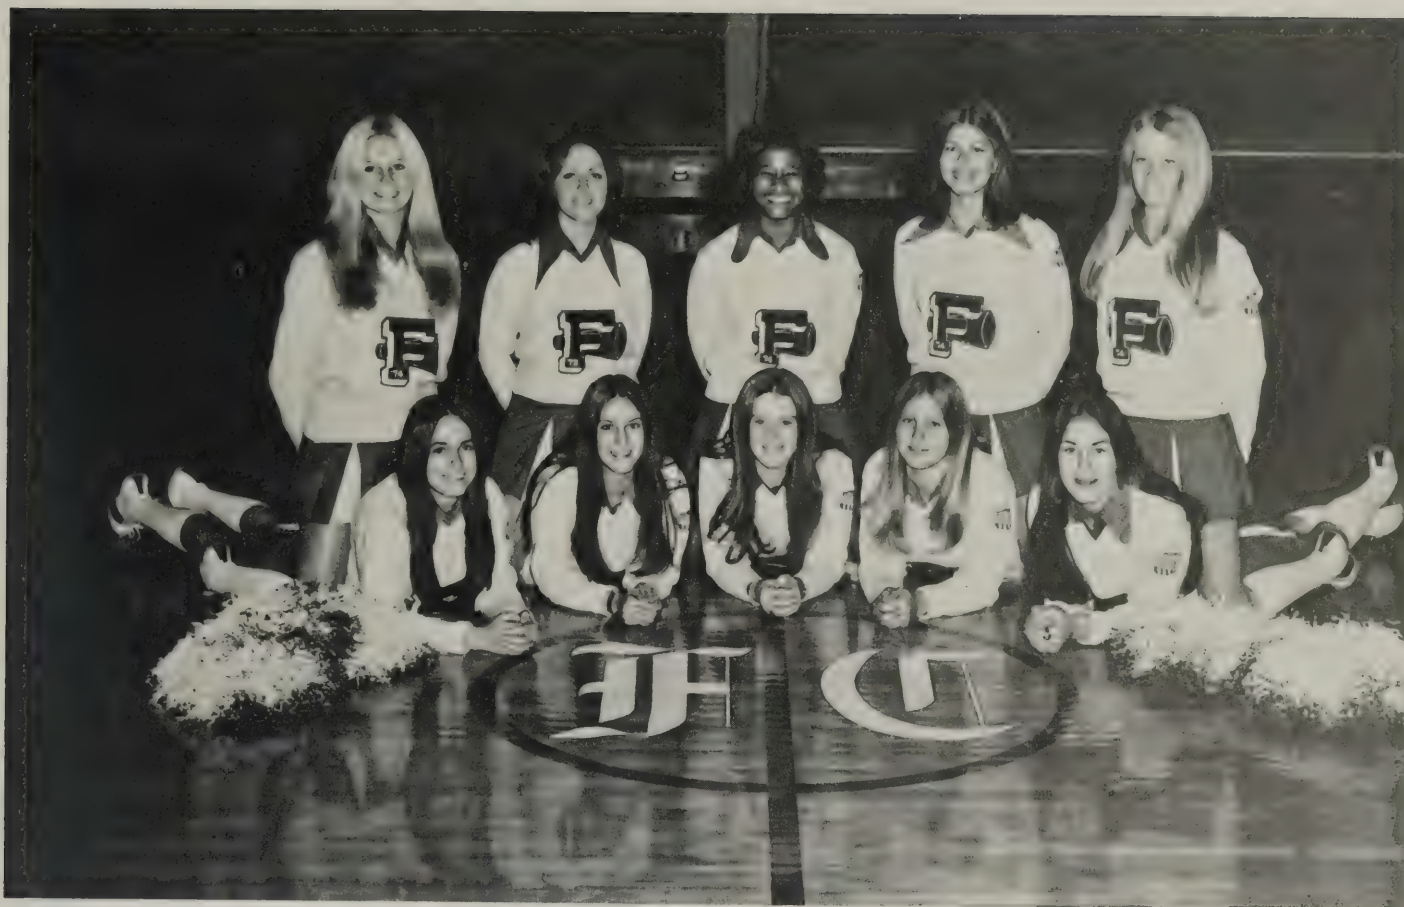

An added attraction, the tamborine, seems to be thoroughly enjoyed by the cheer squad.

Cheerleaders Reflect Fans'

Practice sessions on the front lawn are held often as the Varsity Cheerleaders prepare for an upcoming game.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS: Dianne McGuire, Carolyn Bernard, Faye Milliron, Susan Blanton, Diane Robertson, Donna Hodges, Terri Harmon, Vann Smith, Gladys Boitnott, and Barbara Brown.

Loyalty At Games

Cheerleaders add lots of spirit and enjoyment to our sixth period pep rallies.

Franklin County High School's 1972-73 athletic seasons were notable for their fine displays of athletic ability, winning records, and an increase in the amount of school spirit that was displayed at all games. The Varsity Cheerleaders played a large role in the creation and growth of this spirit. Their tireless cheering whether win or lose and their boundless energy in promoting school spirit will long be remembered. The hard work began in May and was followed by summer practice sessions and cheerleading camp. Football, basketball, and wrestling seasons brought pep rallies, sock hops, posters, banners, and homecoming activities.

Wrestling matches bring out feelings of emotion as shown on the faces of these cheerleaders.

Leading the spectators in a rousing cheer, the J. V. Cheerleaders arouse support for the Baby Eagles.

Debra Southall, Cheryl Taylor, and Susan Webb show their enthusiasm and spirit as they cheer the Eagles to victory.

J. V. Co-captains Susan Webb and Monica Sigmon display their school spirit by promoting enthusiasm and pep at all athletic events.

Cheerleaders Spur Junior Varsity Teams To Victory

Bridging the gap between victory and defeat on a junior varsity level was a task accepted, challenged, and overcome by an indestructible group known as the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. At every game, these red and white clad girls aroused Eagle support for the junior varsity players and spurred the team members to many fantastic performances.

Some of their school activities included cheering at football games, basketball games, wrestling matches, and pep rallies. Keeping in constant contact with the latest in cheering techniques, they attended summer camp in Roanoke.

The ten members of the J. V. Cheerleaders were great morale boosters for the entire school and team and represented their school well at all sports events they attended.

After a spirited welcome, the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders retire to the sidelines.

In 1882 Edison had a great idea - - and it wasn't the electric light!

The whole idea of investor-ownership of electric light and power companies began when Thomas A. Edison and a group of investors financed his first power plant more than 80 years ago.

Since then, investor-owned companies like ours have become an integral part of America's Free Enterprise system. That explains why today we have at our fingertips more electric power than any other country in the world.

And it's this same Free Enterprise system that puts at your fingertips greater opportunity, greater expectation for success than can be hoped for by any other young people in the world.

After playing his best, Bill Walker pauses for a coke break.

"What do you mean, I'm overdrawn at the bank!"

Do you recognize Captain Slick and Commander Cool?

"Can't they stay in tune," says Mrs. Keen wearily.

Cathy Mann and Mark Griffith seem to find much time to talk things over.

Our "little Mother" is always busy at work.

Yesterday's Memories Linger On . . .

Is it a bird, a plane, or a senior speeding to eat lunch before the other students.

Debbie Hodges, Tim Barnhart, and Cathy Mann enjoy the snow that covered the grounds of FCHS.

During homecoming, Mr. Naff seems to enjoy the festivities that have been provided.

"Oh, you are such a BEAST!" Varsity Club Initiation brings the beast out of Pete Wright, Doug Dudley, and Johnny Walker.

As Tomorrow's Keep Happening

As the Homecoming score becomes larger, Susan Blanton's eyes also become larger.

*This Is Not The End.
It is not even the beginning of the end . . . It is rather the end of the beginning.*
